طلبہ کی آنکھوں میں خواب بھی تھے اور اعتماد بھی۔
یہ لیپ ٹاپس صرف ایک ڈیوائس نہیں...
ایک نئے سفر کا آغاز ہے۔

"The students had both dreams and confidence in their eyes—these laptops are not just devices.. They are the beginning of a new journey."

The Reflection of Our Work

The past few months have not just been about launching schemes—they've been about reigniting belief.

This newsletter reflects what we have long aimed to do: place opportunity directly in the hands of students, whether through the Honhaar Scholarships, laptop distribution, or targeted support like transport for girls, Google certifications, and entry test prep.

But what I'm proudest of is not the number of devices or awards—it's the shift in energy. In every student interaction, I've seen ambition turn into action. That is why these reforms matter. They're not about policy—they're about purpose.

Let this issue be a window into the work we're doing and the students we serve. Because when government stands with its youth, the possibilities are endless.

Rana Sikandar Hayat

Foreword by Mr. Zahid Akhtar Zaman

Chief Secretary
Government of the Punjab

ہم نے نوجوانوں کے عزم اور اساتذہ کی محنت کو ایک سمت دی ہے—یہ پیش رفت صرف اصلاحات نہیں، ایک اجتماعی سفر کی بنیاد ہے۔"

"We have channelize the determination of our youth and the dedication of our teachers—this progress is not just about reforms;

it is the foundation of a collective journey."

The reflection of work

Across Punjab, we have made it a priority to move beyond promises and deliver visible, measurable impact. The initiatives captured in this newsletter—from technology-driven laptops & scholarships to transparent faculty recruitment, global skills certifications, and world-class university governance—reflect an administration focused on systems, not slogans.

Our aim has been clear: build institutions that inspire trust, cultivate excellence, and create real opportunities for our students and educators. By investing in robust digital platforms, ensuring merit-based appointments, and empowering every segment—from girls' transport to higher education innovation—we have set new standards of public service.

What truly distinguishes this era is the alignment of vision and execution. In every reform, in every policy, we have put transparency and accountability first—making sure that every achievement is not only earned, but also seen.

Foreword by Dr. Farrukh Naveed

Secretary, Higher Education Department
Government of the Punjab

ہم نے وعدہ کیا تھا کہ میرٹ پر کوئی سمجھوتہ نہیں ہوگا—اور ہمارے کام میں ایک بھی شکایت موصول نہیں ہوئی۔
یہ ہمارا اصل امتحان تھا۔

"We had promised that there would be no compromise on merit*—and today, not a single complaint has been received.*
That was our real test."

The reflection of our work

As you turn these pages, you will read about systems that were built before schemes were announced—from the digitized Honhaar Scholarship & Laptops portals to real-time recruitment of 7,354 CTIs.

Every number is backed by a mechanism designed to ensure transparency, traceability, and trust.

A cornerstone of this transformation has been the reform of public sector universities starting from Appointments of 24 Vice Chancellors, Introduction of performance based KPIs of VCs, ranking of universities, we have laid the foundation for institutions that meet international standards and operate on uncompromising merit.

When we say we've restored the faith of our people towards the system. Every laptop, every scholarship, every appointment—earned on merit, visible to all.

Educational reforms are only meaningful when students and teachers believe the system, which works. And through this ongoing transformation, we are making that belief stronger every day.
